Our previous genetic analysis of chromosome 2p suggested the existence of an inactivated 'chromosome' in patients with 2p-syndrome. Using chromosome painting and FISH, we have defined a locus which was mapping to this inactivated region, and which was flanked by two centromeric alphoid sequences, namely the CEN2-alpha and CEN2-delta centromeres. This chromosomal region, which proved to be heterochromatic, is therefore considered to represent the chromosomal anomaly involved in 2p-syndrome. This is the story of one man's struggles to retain his anonymity while also trying to make the best of his life. Brandon Russell is a 23 year old male who is a registered sex offender. He lives in Ellicott City, MD. His name is being used to disclose his identity for legal reasons. At the time he was convicted of the sexual abuse of a minor in Kent County, he was a 15 year old girl. We are not only releasing his name, but we are releasing every piece of identifying information in order to allow other survivors of child sexual abuse, other first responders, and members of the community to come forward if they have encountered Brandon. Brandon was once a promising baseball prospect. He was a third baseman for a local baseball team. He was 18 years old. He was having sex with a 13 year old girl at his baseball field. His coach was supposed to protect him, but instead he did the right thing by reporting the child sexual abuse to the police. Upon receiving his first round of convictions, he was placed in a residential treatment center. The boy that he was sleeping with told his mom about the abuse, and she reported Brandon to the police, but instead of facing a 24 hour hold for the minor child, Brandon was sent to a program in the adult offenders ward. Within the next two months, he was moved to home confinement after he violated a court order. In April of 2015, he was sentenced to 6 years in the MD State Prison. He is currently serving his time in North
