Character Design for the Soul With a Unique View of Fantasy

Sees the Future! Although we decided that our personal aesthetic was that of a warrior in dark clothing wielding a rapier, we like to have fun with fantasy and welcome those who live in an alternate world where their hearts are drawn to place their souls on the Elden Ring.

Unique presentation: dark colors, refined outlines, and well-balanced perspective

Classic fantasy styled graphics

20 Aug, 2017 The Gods created the world. The Gods created the creatures. But it is the humans who created civilization, art, and law. It is the humans who were the Gods' chosen people, who were allowed to live as long as they lived with integrity. And it is the humans who were made to pay for the Gods' mistakes, to fill the dark, empty space in the world that was abandoned by the Gods. This is the tragedy of humanity. The Gods made us to be the vessels through which they would spread their magic to the world. Because they had no more use for the world after its creation, the Gods left it to us, remaining only a presence, an omnipotent influence behind us that shapes our every action. The Gods made us to be the vessels through which they would spread their magic to the world. This magic is called fate. It can be the benevolent fate that guides you towards your purpose, or it can be the sinister fate that turns against you and inflicts terrible pain. Fate is what causes you to die, but fate is also what allows you to live. There are two kinds of fate. Gods' fate has a color. It is the fate you start your adventure with, and it is the fate that remains with you as long as you are in your current world. Human fate is a different story. It is the fate that you acquire as you travel through worlds. Human fate allows you to add new colors to your fate and break your fate apart until you create a new fate for yourself. There are four colors of fate in this game. You are usually permitted to change your fate only once per 10 minutes. However, you can choose to increase your luck by visiting Gods' altars. As a result of being the chosen people, humans are granted the sacred privilege to create a world that can withstand them. To accomplish this, they created a legal system that allows them to reclaim what they lost. The laws of the land are the basis for your civilization. Some laws allow you to build on a particular land, creating cities; some laws make that land uninhabitable, so the land can be used for farmland. But the rules are not always clear-cut. Using your own judgment, you can change the rules. It is within the laws and traditions that you are allowed to enact change. However, you will be judged according to the laws of the land you occupy. The game is structured into a series
